James F. Morgan, the well known auctioneer, will have an auction sale of carriages at noon today. The carriages offered are first class in every particular and well adapted for Honolulu roads.

Company D turned out for a very spirited drill last night. The very hot weather produced a rather wetting effect on the collars and shirts of the soldiers, but they did not seem to mind it in the least.

Four western league baseball teams will spend the winter in California. In the spring two of the teams will continue their journey around the world and may possibly stop here and give some exhibition games.

The courts of the Pacific and Beretania tennis clubs were both unoccupied yesterday out of respect for the memory of Samuel Louisson who was a member of the former club. There will be no tennis at the courts of the Pacific Tennis club throughout the week.

Davies & Co. has written the Minister of Interior calling attention to the Shone system of sewerage, which has proved a success in many cities having the same conditions to combat as Honolulu has. The Pacific Trading Company, a Japanese firm on Fort street, formerly Itohan & Co., has failed.
